Programs and Services

Center for Personal Assistance - Offers three employment skills training and placement programs for persons with disabilities. Home Health Aide/Personal Assistant training is an employment skills training program for persons interested in working as home health aides, attendants, and personal assistants. The State Tested Nurse Assistant (STNA) program is offered to qualified applicants seeking an advanced employment skills training program for persons with disabilities interested in working within the health care field. Dining Assistant Training is offered to persons with disabilities interested in working as certified Dining Assistants. The program is well recognized on a national level and promoted by the Paraprofessional Healthcare Institute as an innovative model for increasing direct-care workforce capacity.

Community Employment - Provides vocational rehabilitation services in seven counties to assist persons with disabilities in preparing for, obtaining and retaining employment.

Doris Brennan Center (DBC) for Disability Education and Advocacy - A broad-based program designed to assist persons with disabilities in remaining active in the community. Services under this program include:

- Disability Resource Center: Awareness, assistance and access to services and resources related to disability
- Disability Benefits Assistance: Information and education regarding disability determination, and benefits eligibility and application
- Home Choice: Transition coordination assisting people to move from nursing homes into the community of their choice
- Independent Living Assessment and Skills Training: Assists persons with disabilities to improve their ability to live as independently and healthy as possible in the community through a variety of life skills assessments and classes
- Quantum LEAP: a recreation program for people with disabilities
- Low Vision Services (for individuals 55 years and older in Lorain County),
- Outreach & disability education; advocacy groups that promote self-help and self-advocacy

Youth Transition - Offers two related programs: Job Link, a School to Work Transition Program – A year round, PEPNet recognized, transition program that assists student with disabilities, in six Cleveland city schools, to make a successful transition from school to employment and adult community life. High School/High Tech is a community-based enrichment program designed to expose high school students with disabilities to a variety of technology-related career opportunities, ready them for post-secondary education, and encourage them to achieve long-term success.

Public Policy Center - Advocates for and promote changes in legislation and policies to include opportunities for full inclusion of people with disabilities in all aspects of community life.

Assistive Technology Center - Provides information/education about available technologies; holds classes and workshops, and performs individualized assessments and training on assistive technology which enhances an individual's ability to live within their community and/or to maintain employment.
